

WILL MAKE AFFIDAVITNew Lease of Life for an Iowa Postmaster.

Postmaster R. H. Randall of Dunlap, Ia., says: "I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and resulting evils for years. Being unable to obtain permanent relief, I resolved to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Before I had taken one bottle I knew I had found what I had long looked for. After a few bottles I was cured of a soreness in my left side that I had not been free from for over ten years. I am better to day than for years. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure has given me a new lease of life. "If any suffering person will use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I believe, if it is a diseased stomach from which they suffer, that they will receive permanent relief. Anyone wishing can have a sworn statement as to the genuineness and truthfulness of this statement."

This testimonial is the voluntary statement of a man who has suffered, found relief and wants others to receive the same benefits. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure any case of stomach trouble. It rests the stomach by digesting what you eat. The rest alone would restore health. But Kodol Dyspepsia Cure also contains tonics which build up the organ and hasten the good results. You don't have to diet. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. Helps children, too.

RUMOR OF A HITCH

British Parliament Disturbed
By An Intimation From Pretoria.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

It Is Declared That the Vereeniging Conference Is Far From a Final Conclusion.

Little Information From Pretoria Has Been Permitted to Pass the Censor.

London, May 27.—Just before parliament rose at midnight last night, a rumor reached the lobbies that a hitch had occurred in the peace negotiations. Nothing official concerning this rumor could be ascertained, but a press dispatch from Pretoria in which it was said that the prevalence throughout South Africa of the optimistic feeling in regard to the peace negotiations was hardly based upon solid facts, may be regarded as an indication that such a hitch has occurred. Little information from Pretoria has been able recently to pass the censor there. That the government yesterday fully anticipated a speedy conclusion of peace is believed to be shown by the postponement from yesterday until Friday or later of the budget bill in the committee stage with the view as frankly admitted on the government side of the house of enabling the budget to be recast in the event that peace is secured.

The tax on grain has proved so unpopular throughout the country and has had such an unexpected effect in reuniting the Liberal party with a most effective election cry, that there is little doubt the government will welcome an excuse to drop it. The belief that the government intends to drop the tax on grain is so strong that all members of the house of commons who have leanings toward protection met informally last night and sent an appeal to the ministers to dispense with this tax.

PEACE NOT ASSURED

A Pretoria Dispatch Shows Things Still Doubtful.

Pretoria, May 27.—The prevalence throughout South Africa of the optimistic feeling in regard to the peace negotiations is hardly based upon solid facts. The protraction of the conference at Vereeniging is not necessarily a hopeful sign. The delegates to the conference, although they have abandoned their hopes of securing independence, still have many points of difference with the government, while an obstinate minority continues to regard the resumption of hostilities as the best outcome of the present situation, and at any moment these points of difference may be accentuated into a refusal to continue the negotiations. It is most unlikely that those who are in favor of peace will throw up the sponge so long as a decent minority is desirous of continuing the struggle, and all these dissonant elements must be taken into account before it is possible to give any sort of prediction as to the issue of the present negotiations.

They Want to Co-sult.
The Hague, May 27.—It is said in Boer circles here that the peace proposals made to the conference at Vereeniging, Transvaal, includes the condition that the Boers in the field be allowed to consult with the Boer delegates in Europe before a definite settlement is reached. It is declared also upon the same authority that the British government refused, May 23, to accede to this request.

Surprised the "Bookies."

Cincinnati, May 27.—Harry New, from the stable of C. R. Ellison, won the Latonia Derby yesterday in easy fashion before a crowd of 10,000 persons. South Trimble, who was favorite in the betting, coupled with Martin Burke as an entry, finished second, with his stable companion third. Abe Frank the only other starter, finished poor last. The closing price on the winner was 5 to 1, although at one time during the betting he was as good as 9 to 1. There was a big play on Harry New, and all the books quit loser to the race.

Simply "Standing By."

Washington, May 27.—Having relieved all present necessities of the inhabitants of Martinique and St. Vincent the navy department has decided to suspend further activity in that direction and merely to "stand by" ready to respond to any call for assistance. The little Potomac, which under the able direction of Lieutenant McCormick, has performed such splendid service in the relief work, will not be sent back again unless new and worse conditions develop.

The Cuban Congress.

Havana, May 27.—Both the senate and the house have passed a bill granting President Palma $300,000 for current expenses in connection with insular affairs. The senate consumed the entire afternoon yesterday in discussing the best methods of recompensing municipal judges, whether by salaries or by fees. Discussion of the question of granting amnesty to the Americans now in prison or awaiting trial in Cuba is in progress today.

A GRIM STRUGGLE

Miners and Operators Settle Down to Giant Contest of Strength.

THE MINE PROTECTORS

Engineers, Firemen and Pump Runners Threaten to Leave the Mines to the Elements.

Decisive Action In This Direction May Be Decided Upon On Monday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 27.—It is still a matter of conjecture whether the mines in the anthracite region will be completely shut down next Monday, when the order issued by the executive boards of the United Mine Workers, governing the hours of labor and wages to be paid engineers, firemen and pump-runners, goes into effect. The operators claim they will have all the help necessary to keep the pumps and engines in running order.

The United Mine Workers and the officers of the Stationary Firemen's association on the other hand, claim that unless the coal companies grant the demands made upon them the great bulk of the engineers, firemen and pumpmen will quit work. There seems to be no question but that both sides are straining every nerve to make the best showing possible.

The operators are bringing all the influence they can to hold the men now at work, while the striking miners are also doing missionary work. Many of the engineers do not like the predicament they are placed in. If they quit work they will displace the company officials and may never be reinstated, while if they remain at their posts and the miners should win their strike, they would probably find that things would not be so pleasant for them at the collieries in the future. In order to reach those who are wavering, a call was issued last night for a mass meeting of all engineers, pumpmen and firemen in the Wyoming region in this city next Friday evening. At a largely attended meeting in this city last night a committee from Local No. 484, United Mine Workers, reported that they had called upon many engineers during the day and that nearly all had given their word that they would join the other strikers next Monday unless the demand for a shorter workday was granted.

While the position that will be taken by a great many of the engineers and pumpmen is not known, it is known for a certainty where the firemen stand. They will strike almost to a man and the operators will be compelled to secure green hands to take their places.

State Secretary Mullahy says the entire brotherhood of stationary firemen will quit work next Monday. He says he has received returns which justify him in making the prediction that the entire body will go out. Within a year past a great many firemen who formerly belonged to the stationary firemen's association have joined the United Mine Workers. Secretary Mullahy also claims 90 per cent of the engineers and pumpmen will strike. The engineers, firemen and pumpmen who were discharged at the Boston colliery of the Delaware and Hudson company because they refused to do the work which was formerly done by the strikers, were reinstated yesterday.

The Mine Protectors

Hazleton, Pa., May 27.—As a result of a poll made by the executive board of the local mine workers' leaders expect that all the engineers, firemen and pump-runners in the Hazleton district will respond to the strike order on Monday next if they are not granted an eight-hour day by that time. In this region all these men are affiliated with the United Mine Workers. Cox Bros. & Co. have agents in town offering $3 per day to men wanted as pump-runners to take the places of the strikers on Monday.

MAY INVOLVE RAILROAD

Chicago, Teamsters' Strike Promises Complications.

Chicago, May 27.—As results of the teamsters' strike at the stockyards, business in Lackington may be paralyzed and that among wholesale butchers and downtown restaurants may be seriously crippled. Unless concessions are made or an agreement reached soon the Union Stockyards and Transit company is likely to find itself in the toils of the strike. The strikers will demand that the company refuse to transport to the uptown district meats heretofore handled by the teamsters. If refused a general strike of railroad men will be ordered. This will cut out all engineers, firemen, brakemen and other union labor operators of the company. If the strike shall come not a car can be moved either in or out of the yards.

Philippine Treachery

Plag of Truce Used By a Blood-thirsty Moro.

Manila, May 27.—While Second Lieutenant Robert C. Humber of the 10th Infantry and Sergeant Walling of the same regiment were walking about six miles from Camp Vickers, in Mindanao, they perceived a single Moro carrying a flag of truce. When the native had approached close to the Americans he suddenly drew his knife and slashed Sergeant Walling, cutting his arm completely off. Lieut. Humber attempted to shoot the Moro, but his revolver missed fire, and the native escaped in the tall grass.

General Davis, the commander of the American forces in Mindanao, has reiterated his orders that no American soldier is to leave camp unless in a party of at least eight men, who must be armed and prepared for any emergency.

Venezuelan Revolutionists.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, May 27.—A reliable report has reached here that a new invasion of the Venezuelan frontier by Venezuelan revolutionists is contemplated and will occur shortly. The Venezuelan revolutionists who contemplate this invasion are said to have been assisted by the government of Colombia with arms and men. Four thousand men who will invade Venezuelan territory are said to have assembled at Cucuta, which is situated in Colombia but close to the western frontier of Venezuela.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for the wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

COOKING HINTS.

Don't salt cucumbers or eggplant before cooking. It makes them indigestible and unpalatable.

Avoid peeing rhubarb when it is young and tender, for it only needs wiping with a damp cloth before using.

A piece of tough meat can be very nicely stewed in a double boiler. It will take twice as long, however, as if cooked directly over the fire.

Fish which contain few bones may be converted into fillets by dividing the flesh from the backbone in long, wide strips and then removing any smaller bones. Soles supply the best fillets.

Crusts and crumbs of bread left over from the table should be dried, put aside for rolling and dipping or to be used in scalloped dishes or mixed with a few sliced apples and baked and served as a dinner dessert.

To prevent sausages bursting when cooking put them into a saucepan, cover them with cold water and bring this to a boil, after which take them out and fry them in the usual way. This, it is said, will not only prevent the sausages from bursting, but will improve their flavor.

PARAGRAPHIC

POINTERS

To Senator Fairbanks belongs the honor of introducing in the senate a resolution making an appropriation for the relief of the people of the devastated island of Martinique within a few hours after the extent of the disaster at St. Pierre became known. This resolution would have passed both houses of congress the same day but for the objection of Representative Underwood of Alabama, who insisted that congress should await "official information" before going to the relief of homeless and starving people. Of the Fairbanks resolution, which was steered through the house by Representative Hemenway, the Gaulois of Paris, said: "Of all friendly manifestations, the most brilliant and the most touching are certainly those of the United States. The great people beyond the ocean have again proved that feelings of humanity and generosity are among the noble qualities upon which they pride themselves. This fine example of human solidarity touches us profoundly, and we are happy to note it in this unforgettable circumstance."

The interest of every voter in good government from a tax-paying standpoint is in direct proportion to the nearness of that government to him. The honest and economical administration of state affairs is of vital concern to the citizen and should not be lost sight of, even in the excitement of a campaign conducted on national lines. Good government ought to begin at home. In the management of the affairs of the state of Indiana a series of four Republican legislatures has made a record for honesty, wisdom and economy unexcelled in the legislative annals of this or any other state. The people of Indiana are not ready to reverse a policy which has been of such signal benefit to the commonwealth.

Nothing better indicates the prosperity of the people than the patronage accorded to the newspaper. When Hard Times comes to a community the first place he hunts up is the newspaper office. There is significance in the fact that despite four years of exceedingly "hard sledding" for Indiana publishers during the decade ending with 1900, there are now nearly twice as many wage-earners employed in the printing and publication of newspapers and periodicals in this state as there were in 1890. In 1890, 2,628 persons were employed in this industry; in 1900, 4,485; in 1890 there was invested in the business $3,589,513; in 1900, $6,093,191.

Senator Dolliver expressed in a few words the attitude of Republican leadership toward the Philippine problem when he said recently: "The time may come when we will in sheer exhaustion abandon our work in the Philippine Islands. Our burdens have been grievous, and sometimes I have thought they have been almost too heavy to be borne; but if the time ever comes for us to go, our retreat will be taken up in an orderly way and it will not be conducted by the men who have defamed the uniform of the American army in the senate of the United States."

The first platform pronouncement in favor of the erection of a state soldiers' and sailors' monument was that of the Republican state convention of 1884, which declared: "We favor an appropriation by the legislature for the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of the loyal and brave sons of Indiana who gave their lives to save the republic." That desire has been fulfilled in the dedication of the most beautiful military memorial structure in the world.

The state debt in 1895, when the Republican party gained control of the fiscal management of Indiana was $7,520,615.12.

After seven years of Republican administration the state debt is today: $3,887,615.12.

The State Government a Great Business Institution.

(From the Republican State Platform)

In the management of the state's financial affairs the Republican party believes that the state government is like any great business institution, considered from the standpoint of accountability and responsibility to the people of the commonwealth. It believes the humble tax-payer is an interested stockholder in the financial affairs of the state's business, and that inefficiency, indifference or waste in public administration, expenditures or accountings is a crime; and it believes that the present system of state government is the most economical and efficient that has ever been established. The party takes especial pride in the financial record made by its efficient officers since taking control of the executive department. Since that time the party has established just fee and salary laws; the tax levy has been reduced; the state debt has been decreased over one-half, and the present administration will further reduce the debt more than $2,000,000, leaving the state free from any debt maturing prior to 1915.

LINCOLN'S DISPATCHES.

Why Many of Them Were Dated From the War Department.

Surprise is often expressed by very intelligent people that so large a proportion of President Lincoln's most important telegrams and some of his letters are dated from the war department instead of the executive mansion and none of them from the navy, treasury or other administrative bureaus. This is generally deemed a very singular fact, and from it writers have plausibly drawn the conclusion that Lincoln personally liked the secretary of war better than any of the other cabinet officers. While this indeed appears to have been true, it does not necessarily so follow. He certainly held Mr. Seward in high regard, yet he seldom went to the state department.

In the circumstances it was not at all singular. The explanation is easy. War was the business of that time, and Lincoln's eyes were always bent to the army, especially when great military events were impending. He habitually haunted the adjacent war department and army headquarters, where abode General Halleck, his military adviser, for news and views. Head and heart were strenuously concentrated on the fight, wherever it might be. His fertile brain saw, too, the critical points in the game oftentimes far more clearly than some of his so-called "ablest generals."

He not only wished to know what was going on in the field, but performed his own part nobly. In the heat of action or at crucial moments his orders, suggestions and inquiries were fired off spontaneously from wherever he might be at the moment, and at such periods he was generally "over at the war department" with Mr. Stanton. That is the chief reason why so many of his dispatches are dated at that department and not because he perhaps held Stanton in higher esteem than the secretary of the navy or state or treasury.

DIED.

ENGLAND—William R. England died at his home on Indianapolis Avenue at 4:20 o'clock, Tuesday morning, May 27. The immediate cause of his death was bone cancer, from which he had been a patient sufferer for several months. Though his affliction had baffled medical skill and caused him to suffer much pain he remained hopeful almost to the last, believing that he would yet regain his health.

William R. England was born near Little York, Washington county, March 19, 1841, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John England. He passed his boyhood days on the farm. On August 15, 1861, he enlisted in the army, a member of Company H, 22nd Indiana volunteers, and went to the front. He was in the battle at Pea Ridge, Peach Tree Creek, Stone River, Mission Ridge and many others as the 22nd was a regiment that saw much service. At Rome, Georgia, he was wounded, and to his dying day carried the bullet that struck him in that battle. After three years in the army he returned to the old home in Washington county. August 13, 1868, he and Miss Mary J. Meranda, of Scott county, were married. They made their home at Little York. For twenty-one winters Mr. England taught school, his appointments being in Washington, Scott and Jackson counties. During the summer months he would sell pianos and organs and sewing machines. In 1890 he became a resident of Seymour and opened a pension and insurance office, in which business he continued until his death. Mr. England had been a member of the Christian church since 1877, and was a member of the I. O. O. F. for thirty-three years. He was also a member of Ellsworth Post, G. A. R., and for a dozen years or more he was the secretary of the 22nd Indiana Regimental Association, which position he held at the time of his death. His only child was Roscoe, who was killed in a railroad accident last August. The widow has the tender sympathy of a host of friends in her sad bereavement. Mr. England was a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a faithful friend. A brother, Joshua England, of Kurtz, and a sister, Mrs. Angeline McCoy, of Crothersville, survive.

Funeral services at the Christian church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Elder Thomas Jones and Rev. E. R. Vest D. D. Burial at Riverview.

BOLLES.—Mrs. Lyman L. Bolles died at her home on Ewing Monday evening, May 26, aged sixty-two years. She was a well known lady and had many friends.

PAT'S PHILOSOPHY.

The Sound Sense which is Sometimes Obscured by the Sparkle of Irish Wit.

Irish wit is very often unconscious. The Irishman serves up a dish of humor with a garnishing of wit. Beneath the lightest sallies of the strongest brogue, one often finds a depth of philosophy worthy of a sage.

When the Irish hod carrier fell from the ladder with his load of bricks, and was picked up by his sympathetic fellows: "Did the fall hurt ye, Pat?" said one to the half-conscious man. "Faith," came the whispered answer, "it's not the fallin' that hurt me, but the stoppin'."

It sounds like an Irish "bull" but it isn't. It is profound philosophy. How many a man who has fallen into bad habits realizes that it's the stopping that hurts. How many a good liver who has suddenly been brought up short by an aggravated case of stomach disease realizes that it's the stopping that hurts. The falling is easy enough and the sensation pleasant. That downward route marked by late lunches of lobster or welch rabbit, washed down with a stimulating drink, was a very pleasant one to travel. But to come hard up against Nature's punishment of dyspepsia, which stops all pleasures of eating and drinking, is the thing that hurts.

THE WAY TO HEALTH

is paved with good intentions. When there is an over-full feeling after eating, with bloating and belching, the discomfort leads the man to say, "I must do something for this 'stomach trouble.'"

But after a time the discomfort passes off and he does nothing. Sometimes he does worse than nothing by taking something to "settle the stomach" which, by giving temporary relief, encourages him to greater delay in taking the proper treatment for the diseased stomach. Palliative pellets, powders and tablets may relieve for a time, but they won't cure. They can't cure. Suppose you saturate the garbage in a barrel with cologne; there will be a sweet odor in place of a foul one until the strength of the cologne is used up, then the foul smell is worse than ever, and though perfumes may change the odor of garbage they can't arrest the decay. Underneath the perfume decay goes along unhindered. It's so with the foul and diseased stomach. The things that "settle the stomach" and correct for the time acidity, heartburn, etc., have no effect on the disease.

HAVE YOU REACHED IT?

Have you reached that point where you've had to stop eating what you liked? Are you living on toast and tea, or oatmeal—crackers and milk, coveting the good things you don't dare eat? Do you go to the table dreading the penalty of the meal and its after suffering? You can be cured so that you can eat anything you want, eat it with appetite and digest it properly. Here's the proof:

"I was a great sufferer with dyspepsia for over two years, and I was a complete physical wreck," writes Mr. Preston E. Fenstermacher, of Egypt, Lehigh Co., Pa. "Had many torturing, gnawing and aching pains—I think about all that a dyspeptic has or ever could have. I also suffered much with constipation. I tried many different medicines which were recommended to cure the trouble, but these only made me worse and my condition was more sluggish and weak than before. My stomach was in such a weak condition that the least and easiest kind of food to digest would get sour in my stomach, and I had such a weak and debilitated appearance that it seemed as if I had hardly any blood in my whole body. Muscles were soft and flabby, circulation poor and slow. Suffered greatly from cold hands and feet. At last I came across an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's. I read it through and thought to myself this firm must have some sympathy with suffering humanity. I wrote to them for a question list blank, which I filled out and returned to them, stating my symptoms and pains. To my great surprise I received by return mail the best and most substantial advice that I ever before read. This advice gave me the greatest confidence in the World's Dispensary Medical Association, even so great that I at once left off all former remedies and tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used about eight vials of the 'Pellets' and ten bottles of the 'Discovery' which brought me back to my former state of health."

TO BE KEPT IN MIND.

Let every person who has some slight disorder of the stomach keep this in mind: What hurts the stomach hurts the whole body and every part of it. The body is sustained by food when digested and converted into nutrition. But when the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased the food eaten cannot be properly digested, the nutrition of the body fails, with the natural result of weakness. Hence the loss of flesh, the run-down condition, the "weak" heart, sluggish liver, "weak" kidneys and other diseases which are a direct result of the diseased condition of the stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digester and assimilation of food, and therefore the proper nourishment of the body. By its use lost flesh is regained, weakness gives place to strength, and the body is built up with sound flesh and solid muscle.

GET DOWN TO FACTS.

Read What Seymour Citizens Say.

Get down to the facts of the matter. Don't take a stranger's word. It is easier to prove the truthfulness of statements made by citizens of Seymour than endorsement coming from some faraway place. Read the following:

Mrs. David Fox of 618 Ewing street, says, I had a lameness across my hips, my kidneys were weak and irregular and gave much annoyance. My son brought me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from C. W. Milbous' drug store and I commenced taking them.

Although I did not take the treatment as regularly as I ought yet it cured my back, removed the difficulty with the kidneys and relieved me of embarrassment. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to my acquaintances when I hear them complain of their back or kidneys.

TRAINING A RIDING HORSE.

The Master Made Good His Assertion as to What He Could Do.

"Yes," said the riding master, "I have to be a horse trainer as well as a riding master. In fact I couldn't very well be the second without being the first. I always have horses in my school stables here that are sent to me to train for my pupils. One came this morning, and if you have the time to spare I will show you how I give the first lesson in obedience."

The master then ordered one of his men to bring the horse out into the "school," a great oblong space, covered with sawdust and inclosed and roofed. The horse was a fine, spirited animal, with an intelligent and kindly eye, and the master said at once that he would be a tractable and teachable subject, explaining that he had not yet had a chance to "make his acquaintance."

"Now," said he, "you must remember that this horse has never seen me before and that I am, therefore, a perfect stranger to him, and yet I think I can establish between him and myself so good a feeling that in five minutes' time he will follow me all about the school at a word of command—perhaps without a command. Let us see."

He then approached the horse, and the man stepped away. Speaking a few words gently, he patted the animal's neck and rubbed his hand over his head. Telling the man to give him a small riding whip, long and straight, with a keen lash, he placed himself with his right shoulder close to the horse's head, holding the bridle rein near the bit with his right hand and in his left hand the whip extended back horizontally so that the lash was opposite to the horse's flank.

"Now," said he, "for our lesson." And he began leading the horse around the school, keeping his shoulder close to the animal's head. Presently he took his hand off the bridle, and the horse at once began to move away from his shoulder, but a sharp turn of the master's wrist brought the lash of the whip against his flank just hard enough to make a little sting, and at the same time the master caught hold of the bridle and gently pulled the refractory head close to his shoulder again.

This was repeated half a dozen times, and then the horse evidently reasoned out the situation somewhat in this way:

"As long as I keep my head close to this man's shoulder it's all right, but the minute I take it away something back there jumps up and sticks me. Therefore I'll not take it away any more."

That must have been the way he reasoned, for within the five minutes' time allotted by the riding master the horse was following him all around the school like a big dog, nor did the master have to touch the bridle once.—Atlanta Constitution.

Not a Practical Philanthropist.

One day last winter when it was very cold a richly dressed woman stopped and gazed sternly at an ice wagon that was drawn up beside the curb on Walnut street, near Fifteenth. She stood there for ten minutes. Then the ice man came out of a certain house, and she said to him, "Driver, why don't you blanket your horses?"

"Because, lady, the kumppin' don't furnish me no blankets," said the man.

"Then," exclaimed the woman, "you should cover them with your coat."

"All right, ma'am," said the driver, smiling. "You gimme your coat for the near boss, an' I'll put mine on the off one."

The woman, whose coat was of seal-skin, could not think of a good retort to this, and she walked away in silence.—Philadelphia Record.

Twain and the Printer.

Mary Twain once had a trying experience with a compositor, one of those conscientious compositors who not only know, but know that they know. According to a writer in Harper's Weekly, Mr. Clemens had received from his publishers the proofs of a story which he considered as funny as anything he had ever written, but on reading the proofs he dismally discovered that the fun had been carefully eliminated. Mr. Clemens returned the proofs, congratulating the compositor upon having consumed "only one week in making sense of a story which he himself required two weeks to make nonsense of."

HER FACE HER FORTUNE.

Why One Girl Got a Good Paying and Easy Position.

She was a sweet looking girl, with as fair a pink and white complexion as woman ever desired, and was chatting with one of her own sex on a Staten Island ferryboat, while I was seated so near that I could not help hearing. Several times my truant eyes deserted my paper and stole a glance at the face that was so attractive.

"It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to me," she said to her companion, "when I went into that Fifth Avenue store just to buy a comb. How little I thought that I would be working there at greater wages than I had ever hoped to earn! I hesitated about going in, because I feared the prices would be too high, but I did go in and came out with a comb without paying a cent for it. And, better than all, I had been engaged to begin the next Monday as a saleswoman."

"I was nearly discouraged before that, for I was getting only $4 a week, and we were awfully pinched at home, but my luck changed on that day, and it was Friday too. Fortunately for me, the store was crowded when I went in, and the proprietor left his desk that stands in a little raised off corner and came to wait on me. I noticed that he looked very sharply at me, but not at all in an impudent manner."

"I don't know, miss," he said, "but I am looking for a young lady to assist me in the store here, and if your circumstances are such that you would care for the place I would like to have you consider it."

"I was wonderfully surprised, but I thanked him, saying that I knew nothing about the business."

"That doesn't matter," he replied. "You can soon learn it. To be frank, I would like to have you on account of your complexion. You know we sell all sorts of goods for the complexion and articles for beautifying, and your face would do more to make sales than all of the arguments and representations that could be made."

"Well, the result was that I got a fine place, with easy work, at $15 a week. My hours are short, and I simply play the agreeable while selling goods at an immense profit. I wouldn't let any of the conceited touch my face for anything, but the customers appear to be impressed by my complexion, and the proprietor is satisfied. So am I."—New York Herald.

POULTRY POINTERS.

A close, unventilated house is emphatically a foul house.

Ground or crushed bone is a good form in which to give lime.

The nests should be arranged so that the fowls can walk in on them.

Ran is a better feed for fowls than corn because it contains more nitrogen.

An excellent feed for young chicks is cracked or coarsely ground wheat for the first week.

A cock that fights and picks his mates every time they are fed is not a good breeder, and few of his hens' eggs will ever hatch.

Cane or sorghum seed can be fed to fowls to good advantage. It stimulates egg production and in many ways is good to use for variety.

For a good breeder select a rooster with plump, full breast, broad across the back, wide between the legs and that crows often, loud and long.

It is a good plan to mate up the fowls early, for occasionally one of the hens will want to sit during the winter, and it will be best to have the eggs ready.

Fig For Marriage Fee.

"A Lutheran minister in a western Maryland town told me an amusing story the other day," said a gentleman to a reporter. "Some time ago as this minister was walking along a street of the town an old German advanced toward him with extended hand. The minister shook hands, but remarked that he could not recall his name. 'Oh, yes,' said the old German, 'you remember me! I am the man who gave you a pig when you married me.'"

"The minister smiled as he recalled the incident, and as he was about to ask about the wife the old German said: 'Now I tell you what I'll do. When you married me, I gave you a pig, so I'll give you two pigs if you now marry me.'"—Baltimore Sun.

Looking Out For Papa.

A sweet little maid of four years was distressed the other evening because her father did not come home to dinner on time. Her grown-up sister said to her:

"Papa is naughty, and when he comes we won't give him any tea."

When he did come, the sister sent the teapot out to the kitchen for fresh tea. The baby looked on with a troubled face and stole softly to her own room. Shortly she returned with something squeezed up in her tiny fist. Going up to her sister, she whispered:

"Annie, I'll give you all my pennies if you'll give papa his tea."

And, opening her hand, she displayed all her carefully hoarded pennies.—New York Times.
